

Lecture Notes

It's a popular choice for building systems where performance is absolutely critical.

Light game engines, databases, operating systems.

It is an excellent choice for targeting web assembly.

It started as a side project of Greenhunter 4 in 2007.

Who made it after the rest of August, gave its full insert by Mozilla in 2009.

It has been ranked the most popular programming language every year since 2016.

If you would think of it as a known as ownership and more, we invite you all to have a very robust isn't needed..